When the Chief Building Official provides a finding required in Section R105.3.1.1 of the International Residential Code, 2012 edition, the Board of Appeals shall determine whether the value of the proposed work constitutes a substantial improvement. A substantial improvement means any repair, reconstruction, rehabilitation, addition or improvement of a building or structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds 50 percent of the market value of the building or structure before the improvement or repair is started. If the building or structure has sustained substantial damage, all repairs are considered substantial improvement regardless of the actual repair work performed. The term does not include:

(A) Improvements of a building or structure required to correct existing health, sanitary or safety code violations identified by the Chief Building Official and which are the minimum necessary to assure safe living conditions; or

(B) Any alteration of an historic building or structure provided that the alteration will not preclude the continued designation as an historic building or structure. For the purpose of this exclusion, an historic building is:

(2) Variances for Residential Structures. FEMA Floodplains or Floodway. A variance shall only be issued upon:

(B) A determination that failure to grant the variance would result in exceptional hardship by rendering the lot undevelopable.
(C) A determination that the granting of a variance will not result in increased flood heights, additional threats to public safety, extraordinary public expense, nor create nuisances, cause fraud on or victimization of the public, or conflict with existing local laws or ordinances.

(D) A determination that the variance is the minimum necessary to afford relief, considering the flood hazard.

(E) Submission to the applicant of written notice specifying the difference between the design flood elevation and the elevation to which the building is to be built, stating that the cost of flood insurance will be commensurate with the increased risk resulting from the reduced floor elevation, and stating that construction below the design flood elevation increases risks to life and property.

12-1203. Board Membership. The board shall consist of seven (7) members who are qualified by experience and training to pass on matters pertaining to building construction and are not employees of the jurisdiction. A minimum of five (5) members of the board shall be chosen from one of the following design professionals: registered architect, structural engineer, mechanical engineer, plumbing engineer, electrical engineer, fire protection engineering, or, if none of the previous can be found to serve, any of the following with at least ten (10) years' experience, five (5) years of which shall have been in responsible charge of work: builder or superintendent of building construction, mechanical contractor, plumbing contractor, electrical contractor, or fire protection contractor. Each member shall serve for five (5) year terms or until a successor has been appointed.

The secretary shall record and file detailed minutes of the meeting and board resolutions in the office of the City Clerk. The Executive Secretary shall also draft board resolutions and distribute resolutions to the appellant and to the Chief Building Official or Fire Marshal. The Executive Secretary shall not be the Chief Building Official or Fire Marshal or any other building official employed by the municipality.

12-1204. Application for Appeal. Any person shall have the right to appeal a decision of the Chief Building Official or Fire Marshal to the Board of Appeals. A written request for appeal (which must outline the code provision for which the appeal is sought and the bases for the claim) shall be based on a claim that the true intent of this Code or the rules legally adopted thereunder have been incorrectly interpreted, the provisions of this Code do not fully apply, or an equally good or better form of construction or method of protection or safety is proposed. The appeal shall be filed in writing with the Chief Building Official within twenty (20) days after such person, firm, or corporation has been notified.

12-1205. Meeting Proceedings. The Board shall meet upon notice from the chairman, within ten (10) days of the filing of an appeal or at stated periodic meetings. All hearings before the board shall be open to the public.
